THE MIX-UP IN CHINA.

There is in the heart of each of us a principle that is operated upon when there is danger present to a fellow creature that language cannot explain. When the presence of the principle is taken in review we are persuaded there is no need for any explanation, as the higher promptings it gives to each of us is so superior to any language that could be used to explain it that reason tells us it would be like an attempt of the finite to explain the infinite. The all embracing God-given principle, when applied to human kind in danger, is such that it calls loud for action when it goes on its mission to humanity. It goes out unbidden so fully to those who need assistance that it oftentimes takes such full possession of the mind in the presence of danger, that those largely possessed of humane feeling lose sight of their danger in their efforts to relieve others. All beliefs and other distinctions are sent to the four winds when relief from danger present is demanded.

A civilized world is exercised over the danger the missionaries of the various churches and the representatives of the nations are in at China from the violence of the Boxers, whose cruel methods have become known to civilized humanity. The nations are engaged in a struggle to relieve those who are subject to danger, and the life of the soldier is freely given when required to give relief. Strange is this humanity of ours in its manifestations and workings. When the better principle mentioned has done its work and another principle has taken direction and control over the mind, there is a change that seems to reverse nature by its taking the form of a demon, and life taking and bloody deeds show the effect of the controlling power there has been substituted in the human breast for the all controlling humane principle so active.

Both principles are largely active in China, and each will do a work necessary to the up-building of a higher and better civilization in that country. The philanthropist will blame and censure, but the work will go on to the end sought by him, but not in the way it should be done as he understands things, or as he would have it directed, as ambition and love of kind are in conflict about the means that should be used to make the world better.

Present indications point to a conflict between the nations over China which leads to a knowledge of the presence of ambition, whose ways of doing business are not always reasonable, which is liable to cause a quarrel when there is a bone another wishes to say something about. There seems to be no question about the bone Russia intends to carry away when the contention is closed. Whether the other nations will take the relation of and permit the bear to make his selection from the body of the world, is a question that remains to be decided, without a future day. It is to be known through the developments. Present indications are that Russia will act independent of other powers when present difficulties are removed and the situation changed to a condition of war.

Reports given are to the effect that Russian troops shafed under the command of the English admiral who was given command of the forces sent to relieve the representatives at Peking of the governments represented at court in that city, which is not an indication of amity or of good feeling in the matter of division. The behavior of Russian troops which showed insubordination to the admiral in command of the expedition is not assuring that the business of division is settled by agreement.

Another feature there is in the manner of the Russian troops that indicates there is friction present at the beginning of the work required to divide the empire is, that the admiral is an Englishman, which is almost conclusive that the Czar's late visit to England did not close any agreement between the Lion and the Bear over the carcass called China, which was at that time, upon the theory of the most advanced and civilized nations, dead and ready for the knife of the carver.

There is one more fact that may be taken into account in connection with those mentioned when is the evident desire of Great Britain to close the Boer war and the equal evident desire of the Boers not to close it at this time, which indicates that each party to the war contention is aware that no arrangement has been made between Russia and England about the Bear's share of China, but that contention will likely prevail respecting it. Should contention come it will cause war, unless other nations now neutral come to the support of England's contention, which, if done, may cause Russia to accept the best terms possible under the circumstances presented by any combination that may be made.

Should war come as a result of a disagreement between Great Britain and Russia there will be a combination of two or more of the powers who are at this time represented at the Orient and in active work to relieve the situation presented by the work of the Boxers and portions of the army of China. One of these powers will be the United States as matters exist between the administration and the government of Great Britain.

Tommy Atkins and Uncle Jonathan are friends and fight well together, if late reports are to be relied upon. They are blood of our blood and bone of our bone as the Duke of Manchester said when he informed us that there was a secret understanding between the United States and England about Chinese affairs and the Boer war. Any observer of the movements of the governments before and principally since the declaration made by the Duke, can read without the aid of glasses the truth contained in the statements made by Manchester.

Greenbacks Make Their Appearance.

"There is more paper money in circulation in Reno at present," said Harry Clausen yesterday, after a customer of his had been returned the change out of a ten dollar bill, "than at any other time since the Boston excursion train was storm staid here a score of years ago."

"There is only one way to account for this substitution of currency for specie, and that is by the hypothesis that it is being brought here by the eastern mining men who are as thick as bees in the blossoming alfalfa."

HAPPENINGS OF NEVADA

Pencilings and Clippings of Recent Events in the State.

Miss Chlorinda Rebagliatti was elected Goddess of Liberty for the Fourth of July parade at Eureka, receiving 351 votes out of a total of 745.

A discovery of gold bearing gravel paying $80 a day with the dry washing process is reported to have been made in Esmeralda county, about thirty miles east of Silver Peak.

Two prisoners held in the county jail at Elko for robbing freight cars, broke jail by digging a hole through the ceiling. They were recaptured at Oxbow and will now be held for jail breaking in addition to the first charge.

P. C. Wilder and Jessen Bros. have bonded their mine in Red Canyon district for $10,000 to John R. Loolsley of San Francisco. Mr. Loolsley will commence developing the mine immediately and has already let a contract to run a tunnel 100 feet.—Gardnerville Courier.

Building a Short Line.

The Central Pacific Company has an official here dickering for the right of way across the Truckee meadows from Reno down to the head of the canyon. The stakes will be set in a bee line east from the Winfrey ranch. It is understood that 90-pound rails will be used, the same as on the Summit. The cut-off will shorten the track five-eighths of a mile. The present detour was made because the season was exceptionally wet when the survey was run, and the civil engineers feared swamps that were supposed to lie in a direct course.

All Aboard for Steamboat.

If you have not decided where to spend the Fourth, you could not do better than take your family to Steamboat Springs. The grove, pavilion, baths, excellent dinner and other attractions will make the day a pleasant one.

THE SITUATION IN THE ORIENT

The Killed and Wounded in the Tien Tsin Engagement—Seymour's Brave Resistance.

Special to the JOURNAL.

LONDON, June 29, 4 A. M.—Casualties of the international forces attacking Tien Tsin were: Americans, killed 3, wounded 22. British, killed 2, wounded 1. Germans, killed 15, wounded 27. Russians, killed 10, wounded 35. After the relief force passed on to succor Admiral Seymour the Chinese again attacked the foreign settlement with a terrible fire.

Seymour was found intrenched and surrounded by immense masses of Chinese. His men had made a brilliant resistance for fifteen days. The men had been on quarter rations ten days and in another day would have been annihilated.

The Chinese displayed fanatical courage. The fate of the ministers is still problematical. A great force is advancing on the Chinese capital.

County Clerk Porter will return

The town is wide open. More games are running than for many years at this season—an indication of a plentiful supply of loose money.

Half a page of the Riverside register was filled yesterday with the fine Sponsorship of Lord William Francis Graham Tower Tarlat Talbot.

At this season there are usually many vacant houses in Reno on account of the annual emigration to the mountains and the shore. Not so this year. In a month or two there will not be shelter room for the people who are daily casting their lots with us.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is a cure for the dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.
The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send

SACRAMENTO
CONFIDENT

But Reno Knows a Thing or Two and Laughs in Her Sleeve.

A big delegation of Reno Wheelmen is expected to accompany the racing team of the Reno Wheelmen's club, which is to meet the racing team of the Capital City Wheelmen at Agricultural Park, July 4th, at 1:30, in a fifty-mile relay race. The race is an inter-State event, the two teams being unquestion-ably the fastest on the coast. The Sacramento team has twice defeated Reno in Nevada, and expects to repeat the dose on the Fourth, but Reno has been doing some unusually good work of late and with a strengthened team, expect to make the winning team realize that it has had a race.

On Sunday the Sacramento team was selected, and at the try-out the relay record for the distance was put away in the shade. On the same day the Reno team defeated Carson in time that was but two seconds slower than that of the Sacramento flyers in trial. Reno has been saving up for this event for some time, and a good deal of sagebrush money will be on hand to accommodate the backers of the O. C. W. riders. The Reno men who accompany the team will be prepared to "root" for the visitors to the limit of their vocal powers and, as excursion rates will prevail, a large number is expected.—Sacramento Bee.

WAR ON THE MACQUEREAU

The Police Are Driving Disreputable Characters Out of the City.

Several months ago the officers and the JOURNAL waged war upon the macquereaus and toughs that inhabit Reno's tenderloin, with a result that a number of these gentry were caught in the police drag-net and the balance given twelve hours notice, which had the desired effect.

Lately these harpies have been drifting back again. The shady purlieus of Barbary coast have been the scene of nightly brawls in which fists, pistols and knives figured prominently.

Late Wednesday night the cops descended on First street in force. Five arrests were made and seven other characters took the first train out of town. Other raids will be made until quiet, if not decency, is restored.

Don't Care for Property Rights.

"A mine takes anything," is an expression that is frequently heard on the streets now-a-days.

Prospectors are putting this axiom into effect the best way they know how. Down around the Reno Star mine extension locators have monu-mented grain fields, alfalfa meadows, flower gardens and potato patches.

Three men are running a tunnel under the narrow gauge back of the University, and a couple of enthusiasts are digging up the county road on the Peavine summit.

To cap the climax, it is reported that John and Mac are preparing to hydraulic State street—but they won't buy the water from the R. W. L. and L. Co.

Don't Miss It.

At the Baptist church this evening will be given one of the best lectures even given in our city. An eastern paper speaks of Mr. McClary as follows:

Orator, wit, humorist, a pleasing entertainer, all these things were he, Mr. McClary, in Wardell hall, last Tuesday evening. He possesses the ability to precipitate his audience into solemn meditation, and the next moment chases it away with a witty thought or amusing story, never for a moment forgetting the high-class part of the program. Mr. McClary is truly an amazing entertainer, deserving all the praise that has been given him in this country and others. The building was filled and the entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.
—Tonia River, N. J., Democrat.

Two More Victims.

A. M. Lamb and T. W. Evans got enthusiastic over an assay yesterday.
They found a five-foot ledge near town and sampled it. The returns were:
Gold, 25 cents; silver, 3 ounces.

Mr. Lamb was as proud of this sign of his prowess as a prospector as though he had found a gold brick in a silver casket.

An Old Resident Dies.

I. E. Linderman, an old and highly esteemed resident of this city, died yesterday at his home on Reiston street. The deceased was possessed of many excellent qualities and had a wide circle of friends.
Mr. Linderman was a native of Kentucky and was aged 72 years.

A BURIED
COMSTOCK

The Dike Above Town Probably Contains a Vast and Rich Ore Body.

"Yes," said the old prospector, as he elevated his feet on an awning pillar and leaned back comfortably in a bar room chair on a Commercial Row sidewalk.

"Yes, there is a buried Comstock above town. The big dike where a hundred enthusiasts are scratching away, is one of the most widely mineralized belts in the west.

"In a district ten miles in length by a mile wide it is practically impossible to find a piece of rock that won't assay upwards of a dollar. There is a big body of ore beneath which imports these values to what may be termed capping, wall matter and country rock.

"Somebody will hit it rich in a shaft if his money holds out. A dozen others will follow his example and Cripple Creek won't be in it."
